THE AMERICAN LEGION MONTANA BOYS STATE

DELEGATES HANDBOOK

FORWARD

Welcome to Montana American Legion Boys State. The staff, your sponsor, and the American Legion hope that the next week will be rewarding for you. You will be sure to make contacts and friendships that will last a lifetime.

Montana American Legion Boys State does not discriminate against nor does it tolerate discrimination from staff, delegates, or guests against any individual in terms, conditions, or privileges because of race, creed, religion, sex, marital or physical disability, or national origin.

This handbook explains many aspects of Montana American Legion Boys State, and you will need to refer to it often. It is the only one you will receive.

Montana American Legion Boys State is mostly action, and most of the action is political. The more work you put into the program, the greater your rewards. The Montana American Legion Boys State handbook contains a statement that will be of interest to all candidates for office:

You and your friends should seriously measure your qualifications for the office you seek. Make up your mind to develop a following. Campaign hard. Go into an election to win. But also remember that if you lose, the citizens of Montana Boys State have found something in your opponent or his party principles that they like better than they do yours. Constructively do something about it. Don't condemn the world because you have lost. It would be best if you remembered that only one candidate for each office would be elected, and, therefore, one candidate would be defeated. If you are a successful candidate, immediately prepare yourself to take over the duties of your office. Carry out those duties in the fearless, sincere and honest manner you pledged during your campaign. Select your appointees with care. If you happen to be one of the candidates that did not win, remember the citizens have spoken their choice. Politics is serious business. You must be able to win or lose alike.

ELECTED OFFICIALS:

All elected officials of the city are nominated with no party designation or distinction. All county and state officials file for office by petition and are nominated during primary elections. After ALL state elections have been completed and winners are announced, elections will be held for the House and the Senate. These elections will take place within each city and will be by party.

ELECTION PROCEDURE

This petition may be obtained and filed any time after your arrival at Boys State. You need not wait until the day of the deadline. However, once a petition is filed, it cannot be withdrawn. Candidates for DISTRICT JUDGE, CHIEF JUSTICE, and ASSOCIATE JUSTICES OF THE SUPREME COURT will file in the same manner on a non-partisan petition. Their names will appear, without party designation, on a separate ballot.

PARTY OFFICIALS

CITY PARTY CHAIRMAN-COMMITTEEMAN - Immediately after the City meeting on Monday, the members of each party will caucus and elect two city party chairmen, one for each party. The city party chair can select two committeemen, or the members may vote again to fill those positions. The city party chair and committee members are their party's representatives in the city, and they are expected to convey the wishes of their group to the party officials. It is their task to see the members of their party in their City file of county and State office(s) and get to the polls to vote. These three will also represent the city at the State Central Committee meeting

STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE - The city party committeemen from each city and the city party chairman make up the State Central Committee. This committee will meet and elect one of its members as State Party Chairman. This committee has the duty to see that the party it represents has at least two candidates for each office on the primary election ballot. It also coordinates all the campaign plans of each candidate in the party and oversees all arrangements for the party platform and legislative bills.

STATE PARTY CHAIRMAN - The Party Chairman shall appoint from the entire party membership, a 6-member platform committee, a 6-member legislative committee, and a 6-member campaign committee. He shall serve as the presiding officer at all-party meetings. The State Party Chair will also appoint a secretary to record all meeting notes reporting party progress.

PLATFORM COMMITTEE - The ideals and aims of the party will be developed in the meetings of the platform committee. All possible issues should be discussed during the party meetings for recommendation to this committee. The committee will then draft an official party platform subject to ratification by the entire party membership. This committee is molding policies for Montana Boys State and its citizens, and the eyes of the State of Montana are on these platforms. Montana Boys State is serious business; your party's platform should be serious business.

LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE - This committee shall prepare at least three bills supporting the party platform introduced in the House and Senate. These proposed measures are to be prepared before the convening of the Legislative session.

CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE - This committee shall plan the entire campaign program and coordinate the candidates' efforts during the election process. Those seeking office need to meet with this committee to plan a strategy to win their respective office(s).

STATE PARTY SECRETARY - He shall, along with the State Party Chairman, coordinate all the parties' activities, as well as keep minutes of all party meetings and be the custodian of all properties of the party.

After the election of the Party Chairman and the Party Secretary, the general party membership shall have the right to vote on any issues that come up and on any of the committee recommendations. It shall have an equal voice with the Central Committee.

VOTING

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS - To be eligible to vote in elections, every citizen must register in the city to which he belongs. This will occur during one of the first City meetings and before the City general election. A counselor will act as Registration Officer and assist citizens in filling out the registration cards.

VOTING IN A DIRECT PRIMARY ELECTION- The purpose of the primary election is to nominate candidates for public office. The winning candidate is the one who receives the largest number of votes. This is called a plurality vote. His name and the names of the nominees of the other political parties that had candidates for the office in the primary are then placed on the general election ballot.

In the primary election, there are as many different ballots available as there are political parties with candidates in the field. On the Pioneer ballot will be found only names of Pioneers; on the Frontier ballot only, names of Frontiers. In the primary election, each political party selects its own set of candidates for the office to be filled. When voting in the primary election, each citizen will be given two ballots, a Frontier ballot, and a Pioneer ballot. He will vote only one of these ballots, returning the other unmarked. This is known as a closed primary.

THE GENERAL ELECTION - The purpose of the general election is to elect candidates to public office. The winning candidate is the one who received the largest number of votes, a plurality vote.

Whereas the primary election is an election within a political party, the general election is an election between political parties. In the general election, there is only one kind of ballot. On this ballot appear all the names of the candidates who are nominated in the primary election. Opposite the names of each candidate is the party to which he belongs.

In the general election, all voters receive the same ballot, and they may then vote for whomever they please, so long as they do not vote for more candidates than there are offices to fill.

HOW A GOOD CITIZEN VOTES - Democracy must rest upon the intelligent voting of its citizens. For intelligent voting, citizens must be well informed as to candidates. He must be able to weigh carefully all that he reads and hears concerning them. He must stifle narrow prejudice in the light of present-day conditions. He must recognize that even though he is only one of many voters, his vote has a profound influence on the policies and achievements of the State and union. He must take his voting responsibility seriously.

Polls will open at precisely the time outlined in the program. Remember this, and don't miss your chance to vote. There is to be NO campaigning in the polling place. As soon as you vote, please leave the POLLS.

REGISTER TO VOTE IN YOUR CITY MEETING PLACE. ALL VOTING IS HELD IN YOUR CITY MEETING PLACE.

BE SURE TO VOTE!!!

RULES – SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

1. The Speaker of the House will preside over all sessions of the House of Representatives, and in his absence, the Speaker Pro-Tempore will preside. The President of the Senate will preside over all sessions of the Senate, and in his absence, the President Pro-Tempore will preside. The Speaker, or the President, whichever the case may be, will decide all questions of order, subject to appeal by the members.

2. The title of each bill shall be read twice. The first reading shall occur under the order of business number 7 (Committee Reports). The second shall occur as each bill is reached on the Calendar of the Committee of the Whole. The readings will be done by a clerk designated by the Speaker or President.

3. A motion to amend a bill may be required by the Speaker (President) to be presented in writing so that it can be read by the clerk before being debated and voted on.

4. The rules may be suspended by a two-thirds vote of the members elected to and constituting the House of Representatives or Senate.

5. No member shall speak more than twice on the same motion.

6. After a bill has passed the Committee of the Whole, it shall be transmitted to the other body, where it will be assigned to a standing committee and debated in due course. Upon passage in the second body, it shall be transmitted to the Governor.

7. The Governor may sign the bill into law or may veto the bill. If he vetoes the bill, the veto message shall be immediately presented to the House and Senate. The veto may be overridden by a two-thirds majority in each House.

Mr. Speaker (or Mr. President) (or Governor) (or Secretary of State)

PROCEDURE IN COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

MAJORITY FLOOR LEADER places the body in Committee of the Whole with the motion "Mr. Speaker (Mr. President), I move the House (Senate) resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole for the consideration of business on the calendar this day.

SPEAKER (PRESIDENT): "You have heard the motion of the Majority Leader. All those in favor of the motion say "AYE," those opposed say "Nay," The "Ayes" have it, and the House (Senate) is now in Committee of the Whole and ready to consider the business before us."

SPEAKER (PRESIDENT) continues Members of the House (Senate), you have before you for your consideration House (Senate) Bill number (the top bill on the calendar). The clerk will read the title of the bill." CLERK reads the title of the bill.

SPEAKER (PRESIDENT): "The Speaker (President) will now entertain a motion on the bill."

SPONSOR OF THE BILL stands and makes the following motion:

"Mr. Speaker (President), I move House, (Senate) Bill number ___ do pass." He then goes on to explain the bill and why it should be passed.

SPEAKER (PRESIDENT) recognizes those who wish to speak for or against the motion. When the debate appears to be ended, the Speaker (President) says:

"Does any other member wish to speak on this motion? If not, then Representative (Senator) (the person who made the motion) is now recognized to make a closing comment." Following the close of the debate, the Speaker (President) says:

"Members of the House (Senate), you have heard the motion that House (Senate) Bill does pass. Those in favor of the motion, please say "AYE," and those who oppose saying, "NAY." The "AYEs" (NAYS) have it, and the motion passes (fails).

If the motion passes, the Speaker (President) moves on to the next bill on the calendar. If the motion fails, some member must be recognized to make the following motion: "Mr. Speaker (President), as a substitute motion, I move that further consideration of House (Senate) Bill ____ number be indefinitely postponed." This motion is also debatable. When it is passed, the bill is disposed of ("Killed"), and the Speaker (President) can move on to the next bill.

After all the bills on the calendar have been considered and voted on, the Speaker (President) recognizes the Majority Leader who moves: MAJORITY LEADER: "Mr. Speaker (President), I move the House of Representatives (Senate) stand in recess."

SPEAKER (PRESIDENT): "You have heard the motion by the Majority Leader. Those in favor, please vote "AYE;" those who oppose vote say, "NAY." If the "AYEs" have it, the motion passes. The Speaker (President) then announces when the House (Senate) will reconvene. (Usually after lunch)

The transmittal deadline is 12:30 pm. Thursday. All bills must be acted on and all bills passed shall be transmitted to the other House by this time.

The afternoon session is conducted just like the morning session. The bills from the other body are sent to the standing committees, the committee chairman makes their reports, the Majority Leader places the body into the Committee of the Whole, and the bills are debated and passed or killed. Bills that are passed by both the Senate and the House of Representatives are delivered to the Governor for his approval or veto.

Upon completion of the business of the afternoon session, the Majority Leader moves that the House (Senate) "stand adjourned sine die" (rather than "stand in recess" as he moved at the conclusion of the morning session). The motion to adjourn, if passed, concludes the session. No motion to recess or adjourn may be passed without the concurrence of the legislative counselor.

THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM

The Judicial System at Boys State is patterned after the judiciary of the State of Montana, with, of course, the necessary Simplification of procedure to make a practical program possible.

The success and value, and indeed the fun, of a workable Boys State court system, is dependent upon those of you who are interested in the program. First, the various courts must be immediately organized. This is not only the responsibility of the elected Judges, Clerks, and County and City Attorneys but is the responsibility of every Boys State "lawyer." i.e., every boy attending the law session under the direction of the Law Counselor. In Boys State, as in the State of Montana, every attorney is an officer of the Court, and his duties and responsibilities parallel those of the elected Court officials.

THE MUNICIPAL COURT

As heretofore indicated, each city of Boys State has a Municipal Court headed by an elected Municipal Judge, and the officers of which are the City Attorney, Chief of Police, and City Clerk of Court. In this Court will be tried cases in which violations of the city ordinances have occurred. The city Attorney will prosecute violations on behalf of the city. A simplified procedure involves the filing of a complaint by any citizen, the issuance of a warrant of arrest by the judge, the actual arrest by an officer, and the arraignment of the accused, at which he pleads "guilty or "not guilty." If the accused pleads guilty, it will be the duty of the judge to pass a sentence upon him in accordance with ordinances. Punishment may be by fines or imprisonment, or both. The Municipal Judge has the power to enforce his order by placing violators in prison and/or imposing fines upon them; the Chief of Police is responsible for enforcing the judge's orders. If the accused pleads "not guilty," it will be up to the judge to set his case for trial; the judge must give the accused the opportunity of obtaining an attorney. He must direct the Chief of Police to select a panel of 6 citizens who will constitute the jury panel.

When the case is finally set for trial, the City Clerk or the Chief of Police should call the court to order, the judge enters, and the trial commences.

When the Jury is finally selected, they will be sworn in by the clerk. The oath, in substance, is that they and each of them will well and truly try the verdict based on the evidence.

The City Attorney will then address the Jury, telling them what he expects to prove. He will then call his witnesses and examine them. The defense counsel will have the right to cross-examine each witness. Defense Counsel then presents his case. He addresses the Jury, informing them of what he expects to prove, then proceeds to call his witnesses. The defendant may or may not be a witness for himself. If he elects not to take the stand, the State cannot compel him to do so.

The City Attorney, of course, has the right to cross-examine witnesses, just as Defense Counsel did. After the Defense has "rested," the Defense Attorney then addresses the Jury and pleads for a "not guilty" verdict. The City Attorney then sums up his case to the Jury and, of course, asks for a "guilty" verdict.

Following the summations of each side, the Jury retires to make their decision, called a "verdict." On the violations of city ordinances and other small offenses which will arise in Boys State, the verdict must be unanimous for conviction. When the Jury has reached a verdict, they return, and the elected foreman announces it to the judge, who then either imposes a sentence or discharges the defendant, depending on the verdict. The losing party may demand a poll of the Jury to determine how they each vote.

DISTRICT OR COUNTY COURTS

There will be a County Court in each County at Boys State. These Courts are comparable to District Courts in Montana. Montana is divided into 22 judicial districts. The more populated counties comprise a judicial district in themselves - some have two judges; other judicial districts comprise as many as seven counties, with the judges moving from county to county.

At Boys State, the District Judges will be elected on a non-partisan ballot. When elected, the judges should immediately organize their court. They will be assisted by the Clerk of Court, the Sheriff, and the County Attorney.

Criminal actions in District court are commenced by the filing of an indictment or information by the County Attorney, charging the accused with an offense. The trial will proceed as in the Police Court, except that the Jury should consist of 12. The Jury only determines the facts involved in the case and does not determine the law questions.

Some cases will not originate in District Court but will have come up from Police Court on "appeal". Thus, if in Police Court, "A" has lost his case to "B" he may appeal it to the District Court of his County.

The Sheriff is the chief law enforcement officer of the District Court, and under the direction of the judge, he and/or his deputies will keep order, serve subpoenas to witnesses, etc.

Civil matters in District Court are commenced by the filing with the Clerk of Court of a complaint. The clerk thereupon issues summons on the named defendant, a copy of which, together with a copy of the complaint, is served on the defendant by the Sheriff.

THE SUPREME COURT

Undoubtedly, some of the cases tried in Police Court and District Court of Boys State will reach the Supreme Court for final determination.

As discussed under "State Government" the election of Chief Justice and Associate Justices of Boys State is on a non-partisan basis. Boys State Supreme Court is organized and will function exactly like the Supreme Court of Montana.

The Supreme Court is primarily a court of Appellate jurisdiction, i.e., they simply review the acts and decisions of the lower courts to determine whether the lower court has committed an error of law. There are a few instances where the Supreme Court has original jurisdiction, such as injunctions, habeas corpus, and others. Still, in Boys State, the Supreme Court will be concerned primarily with cases coming upon appeal.

Lawyers in Boys State are especially urged to conduct themselves with dignity and courtesy always. There are several more or less stereotyped phrases of judicial courtesy which have become traditional in the legal profession. When making opening remarks to the Court, always say, "May it please the Court". Always address the Judge of Justice as "Your Honor". Address the opposing attorney as "Counsel". When making objections, do it politely; simply say, "Your Honor, we object to this evidence on the ground, and for what reason, (then state the reason)."
